Westside Families Connect with Safe & Sound Westside Career & Community Fair at Wai'anae High

Submitted by Angela Hoppe-Cruz

The 2026 new year kicked off with a powerful surge of opportunities for many at Wai'anae High School on January 9 as the Searider Grub and Market played host to the inaugural "Safe & Sound Westside Public Safety Careers & Community Fair"—an evening dedicated to empowering local families and charting paths to success. Wai'anae High School, INPEACE and Safe and Sound Westside Hui helped to bridge families to valuable resources.

The heart of the event was all about connection. Students and parents had the unique chance to meet face-to-face with first responder professionals, getting a front-row seat to careers in public safety. But the support didn't stop there—the campus was buzzing with providers offering vital resources for education, employment, housing financial literacy, and health and mental wellness support. Of course, no Westside gathering is complete without some 'ono grinds! Local food trucks kept the energy high as families navigated the resource booths and made meaningful connections.

Kala DeSoto Named Best Overall Performer at 2026 Da Hui Backdoor Shootout

Submitted by Jacob Aki

An 18-year-old surfer from Mākaha just etched his name into Hawai'i surf history at Pipeline. Kalānōweo "Kala" DeSoto was named Best Overall Performer and Shootout Champion at the 2026 Da Hui Backdoor Shootout, becoming the youngest surfer ever to win the iconic invitational — and the only competitor in event history to win both longboard and shortboard titles at Banzai Pipeline.

Held in memory of Duke Kahanamoku and regarded as one of Hawai'i's most respected surf events, this year's Shootout unfolded under rare conditions. After weeks of inconsistent swell and shifting sand, organizers shifted from the traditional team format to an open, expression-style session that tested adaptability, patience and respect in the February is going to be a very busy month here on our Westside. Make sure you check out our “What’s Up” on page 9.

The 2026 Legislative session is in full swing. Stay informed on legislative bills that are important to you and your ‘ohana as well as those that effect our Westside. If you can’t make the various hearings in person, you can submit testimony online. Visit www.capitol.hawaii.gov for information.

‘Elepaio Social Services will kick off the “Eat Local Challenge” at the Makeke Wai‘anae Farmers Market beginning on February 7. This year’s featured food item is kalo and events/recipes/cooking demonstrations will be scheduled each Saturday throughout the month. Make sure you check it out!

Valentine’s Day is on February 14. Get your “sweetheart” a special gift or take them out to lunch or dinner. If you forget, you may want to pick up dinner from one of our local restaurants and bring it home on that day.

The Buffalo Big Board Surfing Classic returns to Mākaha Surfing Beach beginning on the President’s Day 3-day weekend starting February 14 (surf permitting) and concludes on the following weekend. As always it will include long board, tandem, canoe, supsquatch, bully board, body surfing and more. For more information, visit www.hoomaa.org

Chinese/Lunar New Year begins on February 17. It’s the “Year of the Fire Horse” which is supposed to bring intense energy for bold changes, innovation and breaking old patterns with a focus on freedom, passion and transformative growth. Many celebrations are being scheduled in Chinatown, so take the keiki and check them out.

February 17 is also Fat Tuesday; here in Hawai‘i we know it as “Malasada Day.” Hopefully, you can get yours before the bakeries/food trucks all sell out. If not, reach out to your favorite “Vovo” to make you some. But remember if she can’t — you can!

There are many scholarship opportunities available starting in January for those of you with graduating high school seniors. Make sure you have your ‘ōpio check with their school counselor for the latest information and applications. Also, check page 12 for some Westside scholarships that are also available.

Sheryl Lynch Retires from Wai‘anae Public Library

Wai‘anae Public Library’s branch manager Sheryl Lynch retired on December 1 following a twenty-five-year career with Hawai‘i Public Library System with the last ten years being branch manager (head librarian) at Wai‘anae Public Library. She had previously worked at Liliha and Kapolei Public Libraries before coming to Wai‘anae.

“The Wai‘anae community gave me such a feeling of welcome, so much aloha, it was a joy to go to work every day,” she said.

Sheryl raised her family while moving around the world with a military spouse and she came to Hawai‘i in 1997 and never left. She attended library school at UH Mānoa and began her career as a substitute librarian at the Pearl City library. “I was meant to be a librarian; sharing my love of reading with the public is my greatest joy. I will miss the people very much, but retirement is the next step in my journey,” she said.

Sheryl is credited with bringing many new programs and innovations to Wai‘anae library including the “Book Nook,” an online book club (due to the pandemic) and a variety of monthly programs for people of all ages. The Friends of Wai‘anae Library (FOWL) hosted a farewell party to send her onto the next chapter in her new journey in her life. She will be greatly missed by all, and we wish her well.

lineup. Against a field of veteran North Shore surfers and rising talents, DeSoto stood out — earning Best Overall Performer and Best Barrel Ride. “This is a dream come true,” said DeSoto. “I’ve been chasing this moment my whole life. To win my second Da Hui Backdoor Shootout, and this time on a shortboard, means everything.”

He earned the longboard title last winter with a standout backside performance, a feat that showcased his comfort and confidence at one of the world’s most demanding waves.

Born and raised in Mākaha, DeSoto carries a deep waterman lineage as the son of world champion longboarder Duane DeSoto, but his latest win firmly establishes him on his own terms. Judges cited his consistency, wave selection, and composure throughout the session.

Beyond competition, DeSoto also serves as an ambassador for the Smile Wave Fund, reflecting his commitment to giving back to Hawai‘i’s youth surf community and honoring the responsibility that comes with success at Pipeline. The philanthropic organization focuses on improving quality of life in coastal communities through education, social integration, and increased awareness of environmental challenges tied to geography and consumption habits.

Congratulations Kala!

Pua Kaiāulu Summer Program is Recognized by the Hawai'i State Bar Association

Submitted by Germaine Escoto

The Hawaii State Bar Association at its December 2025 annual meeting presented the PLACES and Ka'ala Farm's Pua Kaiāulu (PK) program with its Liberty Bell Award. PK is a five-week summer program that connects Wai'anae Coast high school and college students to their 'āina, and the abundance of creative/critical thinking practitioners within the community. As part of the immersion with practitioners, ancestral knowledge, and community talk stories, PK participants explore current community challenges such as land use, fire mitigation, and water.

PK serves approximately thirty-five youth each summer. The University of Hawaii Law School has participated with PK for three years, under the guidance of Law Professor Richard Wallsgrove. With the guidance of professors and practicing attorneys, PK youth study authentic community environmental challenges through a moot court exercise. The exercise requires the youth to draw upon relevant legal opinions and Hawaii constitution provisions to develop, present, and defend proposed solutions.

"These programs educate young folks about the myriad ways to effect change and empower students to engage with important issues in their communities

Congresswoman Jill Tokuda came out for a lunchtime talk story related to explorations and insights around the theme of beloved community and its relationship to each pathway of the summer.

from multiple angles, including the legal system," commented Professor Lucy Brown. "I had the privilege of helping facilitate PK this past summer and I was very impressed with the quality of the students' participation! They grappled with the very same issues that decision makers are faced with every day, including how to balance the many important, competing needs of the community," said Brown. "PLACES not only helps students find their voices as community advocates but also dispels myths about what types of people can and should become lawyers. This has ripple effects and plays an important role in the functioning of a healthy democracy—where diverse experiences and voices have a seat at the table to make the community a better place for all people."

February at the State Capitol means the work is fully underway!

Committee hearings are moving at full speed, bills are being heard, amended and debated, and conversations that shape the future of our communities are happening daily. For me, that always comes back to one simple question: How does this impact the Wai'anae Coast?

From Mā'ili to Lualualei, Nānākuli to Ko Olina and Honokai Hale, our district has unique needs. Transportation,

The 2026 Legislative Session is officially underway at the Hawai'i State Capitol, and once again, the voices of the Westside are part of the conversation. This work is deeply rooted in our community and shaped by the people, families and neighborhoods that make Wai'anae home. Every day, we carry your stories, concerns, and hopes with us as we advocate on your behalf and work to ensure your priorities are reflected in the legislative process.

This year, our office introduced ten bills rooted in the needs and voices of Wai'anae, while also strengthening communities across the state of Hawai'i. These measures reflect what we consistently hear from Westside families — the need for opportunity, strong support systems and practical solutions that improve everyday life. Although the legislative process can sometimes feel distant or complex, our focus remains clear bringing the priorities of Wai'anae to the Capitol and working together to build a better future for our community and our state.

Community engagement remains essential to this work. When residents stay informed and involved, our collective voice grows stronger and more effective. We encourage you to follow our updates, upcoming events and important information by connecting with us on Instagram, Facebook and through our website throughout the legislative session.

Mahalo to everyone who stopped by the Capitol on Opening Day to show support, share mana'o, or simply say hello. Seeing our community represented in these halls is a powerful reminder of why this work matters. Thank you as well to those who joined us for our first

Aloha, Uncle Black Hoohuli

Submitted by Deborah
Hoohuli-McKinney

The descendants of Josiah Lanakila “Black” Hoohuli Sr. honor our beloved makuakāne, who departed this life on November 9, 2025, in his eighty-sixth year, at Moanalua, O‘ahu surrounded by those who loved him.

He was born on December 30, 1938, in Nānākuli, and was the fourth son of Joseph Kahapea Pa‘ahao and Kulani (Lima) Hoohuli. Of chiefly, priestly and warrior ancestry, he was the last of his generation, as all of the seven brothers and seven sisters now are gathered to Ke Akua in Heaven. He wed his one true love, Velma Lou Leinaala “Leina” Adams, on August 17, 1963, in Nānākuli and they were together for thirty-nine years. They lovingly raised our ‘ohana until her passing in 2002. Today, fifty-seven descendants carry his legacy.

He served as a U.S. Marine and devoted more than five decades to Hawaii Department of Education, retiring in 2024 from his role as Head Custodian at Nānākuli High and Intermediate School. By advising on Native American Graves Protection Act (NAGPRA) matters, he worked to protect iwi kūpuna. Through associations such as the Ahupua‘a o Nānākuli Homestead Association, he upheld kuleana to land and community. Involved with places of learning such as Kula Kaiapuni and Ka Waihona o Ka Na‘auao Charter School, he supported the perpetuation of ‘ōlelo Hawai‘i and ‘ike kūpuna. A founder of Ho‘ala Kanawai and Ka Lāhui Hawai‘i, he was deeply faithful to the lāhui.

He is survived by sons Ivanhoe “Boy” Hoohuli, Josiah “Juna” Hoohuli Jr. (Levina “Noe”) and Donald “Macky” Hoohuli (Johnette “Jay”) and daughters Rachel “Momi” Conner and Olinda “Nina” Fisher; fifteen grandchildren, twenty-eight great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren.

Services will be held on Friday, February 6 from 5 to 9 pm and Saturday, February 7, from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m., at Mililani Mortuary Park, Mauka Chapel.

protections or ensuring that infrastructure investments reach the Westside, I remain committed to delivering practical results that improve everyday life for our families.

This month marks a critical stage in the legislative process. Bills that do not move forward soon will not advance this year. That makes community input especially important right now. If there is an issue affecting you, your business or your ‘ohana, now is the time to speak up.

Beyond policy, February is also about presence. I continue meeting with community organizations, schools, kūpuna groups and small business owners to ensure our decisions at the Capitol reflect real experiences at home. Good legislation does not happen in isolation. It happens when government listens.

Serving this community remains one of the greatest honors of my life. The work is demanding, but the purpose is clear. Every hearing, every late night and every difficult conversation is grounded in the same mission: to ensure the Wai‘anae Coast is heard, respected and invested in.

WCCHC'S LEGISLATIVE PRIORITIES

WCCHC Legislative Priorities: Advocating for a Healthier West Oahu

As Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center prepares for the 2026 legislative session, our advocacy focuses on protecting access to care and strengthening the systems our community relies on. WCCHC supports policies and investments that address the following issues impacting patients and community health centers statewide:

- Mitigate the Impacts of the Upcoming Medicaid Changes to preserve coverage & continuity of care
- Support Healthcare Workforce Development
- Support Subsidy Increase for WCCHC Emergency Department (12 am - 8 am)
- Expansion of Telehealth Modalities
- Promote Healthcare Technology and Innovation
- Rural Healthcare Transformation (RHT) Program

At the heart of WCCHC's 2026 priorities is an Operating Grant-in-Aid to support its Medicaid Readiness Plan. Funding will expand Medicaid enrollment and redetermination support by hiring additional Eligibility Workers, establishing a West O'ahu Social Services Resource Hub at the Wai'anae Mall, implementing enrollment and tracking software to better support hard-to-reach patients, and strengthening outreach through materials and community events across West O'ahu.

WCCHC is also requesting funding for a Capital Improvement Project to expand the Waipahu Family Health Center at the Filipino Community Center. Capital funding will allow WCCHC to convert and retrofit newly leased office space into clinical space adjacent to the existing primary care clinic, increasing exam room capacity, improving patient flow and accessibility, and creating dedicated space for an on-site social services resource hub and health and wellness training center. Together, these investments will help ensure patients remain insured, reduce uncompensated care, and expand access to comprehensive, coordinated care for families across West O'ahu.

HONORING OUR LEGACY NURSE PRACTITIONERS

On December 4, Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center gathered at the Dodge & Claggett Lānai at our main campus to honor four Legacy Nurse Practitioners whose leadership and dedication helped shape the foundation of care at our Health Center. Staff and community came together for a blessing and recognition of these exceptional providers, along with the blessing of a new recognition display created in their honor:

- Karen Young
- Kathy Terada
- Patricia "Pat" McKenzie
- Lisa Zick-Mariteragi

These remarkable Nurse Practitioners have been part of WCCHC since the early days, helping to pave the way for Nurse Practitioners across our organization. From establishing our Women's Health Department to growing our Adult Medicine Clinic and developing our Nurse Practitioner Residency Program, their impact continues to be felt throughout our Health Center and the community.

Beyond their clinical care, their mentorship has influenced generations of Nurse Practitioners who continue this important work today. Their legacy lives on through the providers they mentored, the programs they helped build, and the patients and families they cared for over decades.

The community is invited to visit the Dodge & Claggett Lānai to view the recognition display honoring WCCHC's Legacy Nurse Practitioners and their enduring impact on our Health Center.

WELCOME DR. DONALD SIMPSON, CHIEF MEDICAL OFFICER

On January 1, 2026, Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center (WCCHC) proudly welcomed Dr. Donald Simpson as Chief Medical Officer.

Dr. Simpson is well known to the Wai'anae Coast community through his service at WCCHC. He joined the Health Center in 2020 as a Psychiatrist serving both adults and keiki and has served since 2023 as Senior Behavioral Health Clinical Director.

In his leadership roles at WCCHC, Dr. Simpson has overseen Behavioral Health, Addiction Medicine, and Chronic Pain Management services. His work has helped reduce wait times, expand the provider workforce, and strengthen the integration of behavioral health into primary and specialty care. Through these efforts, he has enhanced care coordination across the Health Center while supporting staff and advancing whole-person, community-based models of care.

Dr. Simpson completed his residency training at Griffin Memorial Hospital and Rush University Medical Center, where he served as both Chief Resident and Chief Fellow. He is board certified in Psychiatry and Child & Adolescent Psychiatry and holds an MBA in Healthcare Management from Davenport University. He also serves as an Adjunct Clinical Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at A.T. Still University School of Osteopathic Medicine, WCCHC's on-campus medical school partner, and remains deeply committed to teaching and mentoring the next generation of physicians.

In His Own Words

"I am honored to step into the role of Chief Medical Officer at WCCHC. This is a kuleana I accept with deep respect for this community, our history, and the dedicated staff who serve our patients every day."

My journey in healthcare began more than 26 years ago as a receptionist in my hometown emergency department. Since then, I've had the opportunity to serve in many roles across the healthcare system. These experiences shaped my belief that the best care is grounded in relationships, trust, and respect for all involved—no matter their title or job description.

Over the past 5.5 years, I've been grateful to serve this community as a Psychiatrist focused on whole-person care for patients of all ages, and for the past 2.5 years, to help expand access to care to meet our community's growing healthcare needs.

My vision is rooted in mālama, laulima, and always striving to act with pono. I am committed to strengthening and expanding safe, high-quality care; advancing whole-person care; ensuring those who care for our community are supported; and fostering a culture of continuous improvement while reducing burnout. I come committed to listening first, learning together, and building solutions in partnership with staff and community alike. I am grateful for the trust placed in me and look forward to walking this path together in service of our mission."

Out and About with Lei'a

By Lei'a Haff

Leeward Kai Canoe Club stands as one of Leeward O'ahu's enduring pillars of wa'a culture. Based in Nānākuli, the club's roots reach back to 1967, when Henry "Baldy" Van Gieson and Edith Van Gieson, affectionately known as "Auntie Edie," helped establish an organization that would grow far beyond a paddling program. From the start, Leeward Kai represented more than competitive canoe racing, it became a home for families, a pathway for youth, and a living expression of community pride anchored in the traditions of Hawaiian canoe paddling.

In the late 1960s, organized canoe racing was gaining momentum as a way to strengthen connections to 'ike kūpuna (ancestral knowledge) and to nurture healthy, disciplined lifestyles. In Nānākuli, that momentum met a community ready for a unifying force, one that could bring people together around the shoreline, the canoe and the shared responsibility of learning to move as one. Leeward Kai's founders helped shape that vision: a club that would welcome keiki, parents, and kūpuna, creating a multi-generational space where the lessons of the water carried into daily life. Over time, Leeward Kai became known not only for the crews it produced but for the values it reinforced. The club emphasizes excellence, cultural perpetuation and stewardship, principles that align with the deeper purpose of wa'a. Paddling teaches commitment through early mornings, repetitive drills, and the discipline of listening closely to the caller and the rhythm of the crew. It teaches accountability as well. Each paddler's effort matters, and the canoe only moves when everyone pulls together. For many families, these lessons have served as a foundation, helping young people build confidence, resilience, and a strong sense of belonging.

A signature part of Leeward Kai's legacy is its long relationship with the annual Father's Day Regatta at Nānākuli Beach, hosted by the club since 1968. Year after year, the regatta has offered more than a race schedule. It has provided a gathering point for the community and a way to honor traditions through friendly competition, shared meals, and the presence of extended 'ohana from across the island paddling community. It is also a reminder that canoe racing thrives when it is rooted in place, people, and purpose.

Today, Leeward Kai continues as an active member club within the O'ahu Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association (OHCRA), welcoming new generations into the sport while remaining grounded in the leadership and legacy that shaped its early years. Whether on the beach rigging canoes, on the water finding rhythm, or in the community lifting one another up, Leeward Kai carries forward a simple truth: wa'a is not only about speed. It is about unity. In Nānākuli, Leeward Kai Canoe Club is a living reminder that when culture is honored, discipline is practiced, and community is loved, a canoe becomes more than a vessel, it becomes a place where people find purpose, belonging, and pride together.

Shanna’s Sunset — Aloha Shanna Kalehuaokalani La’a

In loving memory of Shanna Kalehuaokalani La’a | September 21, 1975 - October 24, 2025
Submitted by Anuhea Tavares

The truth of life is that one day we will all die— that our light in this world will someday set. In that moment of deep grief, our loved ones will watch the light of who we were reflect on the dust and particles that we left behind, holding on to as much as they can. How do you capture the full beauty of a vast, colorful sunset dancing in the clouds? That’s how I feel writing about my late mom, Shanna Kalehuaokalani La’a. While her story, like a stunning sunset, is difficult to capture, it’s worth trying.

Like the setting sun, Shanna called the westside “home,” having been raised in Nānākuli by my late grandparents, Valerie and Claude La’a, with her siblings Shannon, Noelani, Brandon and Jared-David. Eventually, she raised my brothers (Gregory, Travis, Jameson, Kaulana), cousins, and me in Mākaha.

As her name suggests, Kalehuaokalani, the colors of my mom’s sunset are like lehua: brilliant shades of red, pink, orange, yellow, and cream. The sky is filled with many high clouds reflecting her light, as she was a skilled educator for over twenty years at Mākaha Elementary School and had a gift for uplifting others. Her presence, especially her smile, shined through the rays of light reaching out to hug the clouds in every corner. She gave people a sense of peace and confidence that everything was going to be okay.

When my mom’s time came, I witnessed the most beautiful sunset filled with a community abundant in kindness and generosity. On January 3, hundreds of people gathered at Pōka’i Bay Beach Park to celebrate her life by sharing stories, eating “ono” food, listening to live Hawaiian music, dancing hula and playing games. My mom was truly a light in this world, and aloha is her legacy. While my heartache feels as deep as the ocean wishing I could meet her at the horizon, I follow the diamonds of our memories glistening on the surface and feel the warmth of her love.

Love you, Ma!
